

TIMBER DOORS

Folding doors

Concertina-style timber folding doors open up a wide aperture between the interior and terrace. Leaves can fold to one or both sides; a low threshold is available. Leaf dimensions must be agreed for each project. Operation may require more effort than other patio door types.

Construction features

System	Concertina type
Leaf movement	To one or both sides
Threshold	Low threshold available
Leaf dimensions	Agreed for each project

Selecting the specification

Timber, glazing, hardware and final dimensions are selected to suit the opening and usage requirements. Thermal and acoustic values are confirmed for the specific structure.